

BREAKFAST WITH ANGIE DOYLE

Business Agility is the new black

Let's face it, the world is changing. Whether we are ready for it or not.

Not only do we need to change the way we run and manage our businesses, we also need to change the way we think about our products and customers.

But we can't just "think" about doing things differently - we actually need to "do" things differently. Even if you don't work in software development, you have probably heard about the management revolution caused by Agile software development. It is certainly no coincidence that the 5 largest companies in the world have adopted agile practices! But "being" Agile is not about a set of development practices. We need to focus on delivering the RIGHT things for our customers. And this requires a mind-set change!

We will discuss practical ways to apply the following Core Business Agility Practices:

- Delighting customers
- Descaling work
- Enterprise-wide Agility
- Nurturing culture
