

Women in Leadership Breakfast

Inspire, Equip, Support

Theme for May: Gender Equality: Are we making progress?

More about our Speakers

Lungisa Sonqishe (ELEVEN11 Coaching)

"Tackling Personal Branding and Development" – How women can express themselves effectively in this fast changing world

Lungisa's mission in life is to be of service to others and to contribute her talents specifically to those who'd benefit most from them. She spent most of her life living in different countries and the biggest lesson she has learnt from that experience is, "we all want the same things in life". Lungisa studied Mass Communication in Amsterdam and understands the significance of purposeful communication. She worked in the corporate world for 12 years, specifically advertising and branding. Lungisa also studied Life Coaching and later Executive Coaching, and spent the last 6 years helping executives and corporations with business and personal branding strategies. Her company slogan is "I see you", which in Zulu is the greeting "Sawubona" which means, "I acknowledge the greatness in you".

Nthabiseng Moleko (Chapter 9 institution – Commission of Gender Equality)

"What are the Economics of Progress?" – Has the country made strides towards economic empowerment of women

Nthabiseng is a faculty member at USB where she teaches Economics and Statistics. She is passionate about development economics and finance, and her mission is to alleviate poverty and bring about positive social and economic change. In October 2017, Nthabiseng was appointed as a commissioner of the Chapter 9 institution called the Commission for Gender Equality where she serves to advance the economic empowerment of women in society. She holds an Honours in Business Science (Economics) from the University of Cape Town and an MPhil in Development of Finance from the University of Stellenbosch Business School. Nthabiseng is a published author of the book: Career Guidance and Technical Training: A solution for youth unemployment, and two anthologies of poetry (Abundant Living and Been Chasing Destiny).

Siphokazi Memela (Marcus Evans)

"The Role of Gender in the Modern African Household" – Re-evaluating gender roles within the traditional home

Siphokazi is an energetic advocate for change where it is required. She is a former journalist that have spent the better part of the past two decades informing and educating the public on how change will affect their everyday life. She endeavours to speak life into the possibilities that come with any paradigm shift and assist to shape the thinking of the general public by offering a comprehensive spectrum of the potential therein.

CAPE TOWN

Friday, 11 May 2018

Atlantic Imbizo, V&A Waterfront

TIME

09:00 – 12:00 (08:30 registration)

INVESTMENT

R490.00 Excl VAT

BOOK NOW!

For bookings click here or contact Johleen on 021 913 3507 or johleen@symphonia.net

Delegates stand a chance to win prizes to the value of R19,500!

Including a Spa & Spur voucher and a book by Brené Brown

Proud sponsors

Melanie Burke

SYMPHONIA
Leadership Development

www.symphonia.net