More about our Speakers

Lynette Hundermark (Useful and Beautiful)

"If you are passionate enough about something, that will always shine through and you will find a way to persevere and never give up."

With over 20 years' of experience in the tech, digital marketing and mobile solutions space, Lynette co-founded specialist mobile solutions consultancy Useful and Beautiful. She is regarded as one of top 30 most influential women in SA digital marketing, a multiple award winner for her work, a Regional Business Woman of the Year Award finalist and a finalist as a Female Role Model of the Year in the Global Start up Awards. Lynette has created some of the most successful mobile solutions in Africa and also speaks regularly at a variety of local and international tech conferences. She is frequently quoted in SA and African media and spends her spare time supporting "Women in Tech initiatives" and mentoring app students at the University of Western Cape.

Denise Stubbs (Thokozani Group)

"Small beginnings are the launching pad to great endings!"

Denise is the managing director of Thokozani Group (meaning Celebrations in Zulu). After completing her degree and further studying HR and project management, Denise's path took a turn when she sacrificed her corporate career to become the majority shareholder. Through sweat equity and empowering 75 farm workers to become shareholders in the business. She was instrumental in the creation of the Thokozani Group of Companies, which is a BBBEE initiative. She is very passionate about training and development, creating capacity building and empowerment opportunities for workers. Denise was a finalist at the 2018 Entrepreneurs award, 2018 Winner of the IWEC Mentee, Overall Winner of the Cape Chamber of Commerce Transformation and smaller exporter awards.

Althea Banda-Hansmann (Transforming Moments Consulting)

"ReBirthing Your Self, Your Mind, Your Body."

Althea is the founding director of Transforming Moments Consulting. As a transformation coach, facilitator and consultant, she is passionate about being at the forefront of today's leadership, wellness, diversity and race-work, while creating environments for people to think for themselves. With more than two decades of corporate experience in blue-chip companies, she has a deep, lived understanding of transformation challenges, not only for the individual, but at team, organisational and systemic levels as well. Althea has been a long-standing coach educator and facilitator at top academic institutions supporting the development of existing and the next generation of change-makers. She sees her role as offering 'midwifery' for leaders to birth that which they most desire and that which they sense is their calling in the world.
