More about our Speakers

Dr Amber Anderson (Cristal Capital)

"#Being ♀"

Amber believes that being born into material poverty to spiritually wealthy parents, paved the way for a compelling life story that is an inspiration to many. Over a career spanning 30 years, she has acquired a wealth of business experience, has broken through the "concrete ceiling" as a woman in business and is admired for the ease with which she migrates between grassroots and boardroom. She is currently the managing director of Cristal Capital, a business advisory specialising in bespoke business aligned solutions that are co-created using deep insights of the human and organisational dynamics prevalent in her clients' businesses and is combined with her global organisational recalibration and HR best practice expertise. Her contributions in both business and communities have been authenticated by various local and international awards.

Linda Makalima (Lima Business Solutions)

"Finding and Defining One's Value in the Professional World."

Linda is a career and business coach, providing professionals and entrepreneurs with skills, insights and tools to enrich their careers and businesses, enabling them to attain set professional goals. She has approximately 20 years banking experience gained at Standard Bank South Africa. During her banking tenure, Linda acquired skills in various facets of banking. She was the first black woman to be appointed as chief executive officer of Diners Club International (a wholly owned subsidiary of Standard Bank of South Africa).

Favourite Quote: "There are no coincidences in life, where we find ourselves in work environments is exactly where we are supposed to be. The question is "who do we choose to be?"

Dylan Kohlstädt (Shift ONE Digital)

"Girl Boss: Bitch or Babe?"

Dylan is a serial entrepreneur and speaker who knows how to use digital marketing and social media to grow a business and build a brand that people love. She founded Shift ONE Digital in 2011 and the Digital Marketing Academy in 2013 and recently launched her #AskDK YouTube show where she shares her knowledge on digital marketing, marketing and entrepreneurship with her followers. Dylan has over 20 years of marketing and digital marketing management experience in gaming, insurance, financial and property industries and can be considered a subject matter expert on all things digital. She has extensive local and international experience and has managed global and national brands in multiple languages and countries.
