More about our Speakers

Portia Heynes (Specialist in designing systemic Learning Strategy)

“Developing your personal brand” – Crafting your personal strategy “You” Pty Ltd

Portia is an entrepreneur and a specialist in the field of systems thinking, designing sustainable learning strategies and cultures. She has worked for local and global companies in cross functional roles across multiple industries for 30 years namely financial, telecoms, hospitality, BPO. She holds a BCom and Executive MBA (UCT Graduate School of Business) and is currently working on her PhD.

Her success can be contributed to her embracing the challenges she experienced in education, career and life by viewing these as opportunities and integrating these into the design of her personal strategy and brand.

Nirvani Dhevcharran (Pearson South Africa)

“Women in Tech” - I believe it is imperative to develop your personal brand in an industry dominated by males. As women we must stand up for ourselves and be heard; by being bold and courageous you will never look back

Nirvani Dhevcharran is the executive director for technology and is responsible for the delivery of all technology solutions for Pearson South Africa. This is achieved by applying the appropriate strategies and succinct plans for implementation that meet global Pearson standards. With extensive experience in computer science, her role enables strategic and operational effectiveness which provides Pearson South Africa with a competitive advantage. Nirvani holds a Bachelor of Science degree in computer science from the University of Kwa-Zulu Natal as well as a Master of Science in computer science from the University of South Africa.

Lynn Andriés (Symbiota Leadership Institute)

“Mind your Impact” – A brain-savvy perspective on developing an engaging personal and leadership brand

Through compelling insights and a glimpse into her personal experience of growing up in an orphanage, Lynn illuminates strategies that can influence our confidence, resilience and the outcomes of our lives.

Lynn is passionate about developing trust and high-performance corporate teams, with the brain in mind. She holds a MSc. degree in the Neuroscience of Leadership (Middlesex Univ. UK), and is engaged in her PhD. studies at UCT Graduate School of Business.
